THE PLAZA HOTEL

The Plaza remains a beacon of old-wealth New York, with French-style rooms, private terraces, and Butler service. Tommy Hilfiger lives upstairs in the residences, and the Plaza Food Hall on the lower concourse run by Todd English has all sorts of delicacies from truffle pizza to custom tins of caviar. 768 Fifth Ave., 212-759-3000; fairmont.com

THE RITZ-CARLTON, CENTRAL PARK

A short walk to Museum Mile, this townhouse-like hotel has views of Central Park and a La Prairie spa, which offers up some of the city's best spa services, such as a caviar facial that helps with elasticity and tone. 50

THE ST. REGIS

This NYC institution is known for unrivaled service, a luxe Remède Spa, and the storied King Cole Bar. It makes the perfect stay for travelers looking to live in the lap of luxury or for locals looking to celebrate a birthday or anniversary in grand style. INSIDER TIP: Right across the street is the hardest-to-book restaurant in town, Ralph Lauren's Polo Bar, so make a reservation as you're securing your room. 2 E. 55th St., 212-753-4500; stregisnewyork.com

SANCTUARY HOTEL

This centrally located hotel adjacent to

Times Square boasts European-style hospitality and stylish furnishings. 132 W. 47th St., 212-234-7000; sanctuaryhotelnyc.com

VICEROY

All the rooms harken to cabins on a luxury ocean liner, but opt for a Vicerooy Park View Room and its green vistas. 120 W. 57th St., 212-830-8000; vicerooyhotelsandresorts.com

UPPER EAST SIDE

THE CARLYLE

Talk about amenities! Guests and visitors can hear world-class cabaret at Café Carlyle, rejuvenate themselves at the hotel's Sisley-Paris spa, or head to Bemelmans Bar—with its famous Ludwig Bemelmans murals and 24k-gold-leaf-covered ceiling—for a classic New York moment. 35 E. 76th St., 212-744-1600; rosewoodhotels.com

THE MARK HOTEL

This boutique hotel is all about one-of-a-kind perks: 24-hour access to Bergdorf Goodman, personal training with Dan Flores, and room service from none other than Jean-Georges Vongerichten. 25 E. 77th St., 212-744-4300; themarkhotel.com

THE PIERRE

This New York landmark offers white-glove VIP service to its guests and rooms that feel like private residences. INSIDER TIP: The Presidential Suite, known as the Tata Suite, has the most exquisite Manhattan views of all of the hotel's rooms. 2 E. 61st St., 212-838-8000; thepierre.com

HÔTEL PLAZA ATHÉNÉE

After a $268 million facelift, the charming hotel feels a touch more couture, and the suites have a distinctly residential feel (in line with the townhouse-lined street). INSIDER TIP: After the recent revitalization, try to book one of the six new guest rooms and eight new suites. 37 E.

THE SURREY

Highlights abound at this Beaux Arts-style hotel: an impressive art collection, a restaurant from world-class chef Daniel Boulud, and the Cornelia Spa (with services that New Yorkers—and not just guests—rave about). It's the perfect spot to stop for a cocktail while shopping on Madison Avenue. 20 E. 76th St., 212-288-3700; thesurrey.com

UPPER WEST SIDE

THE LUCERNE HOTEL

Central Park, Hayden Planetarium, and the American Museum of Natural History are just two blocks from this classically restored landmark building. Just as important, it's also near the Shake Shack with the least crazy line in NYC. 201 W. 79th St., 212-875-1000; thelucernehotel.com

MANDARIN ORIENTAL

This Forbes five-star hotel at the Time Warner Center includes a 35th-floor lobby overlooking Central Park and a 14,500-square-foot spa with views of the Hudson River. INSIDER TIP: The private event space holds some of New York's most glamorous fundraisers, such as New Yorkers for Children. 80 Columbus Circle, 212-805-8800; mandarinoriental.com

LUXE REDUX

The Four Seasons Hotel New York Downtown, the new iteration of the classic uptown hotel, occupies the first 24 floors of a handsome tower on the border between FiDi and Tribeca. Yabu Pushelberg has designed 189 luxuriously tranquil guest rooms, and a staircase off the main lobby (again) creates its own showstopping moment. 27 Barclay St., 646-880-1999; fourseasons.com/newyorkdowntown
