

HOME >

The Art of Welcome: Among the World's 50 Best

From Marrakech to Lake Como, these properties reflect Assouline's shared devotion to artful living and the rare beauty of true craftsmanship.

BY SOFIA QUINTERO

Posted on 13 November 2025

Photograph taken for André Paccard's architect-decorator book Mamounia, Marrakech, Morocco, published in 1987.

T rue hospitality is an art form. One that shows itself in the perfection of a morning coffee, the intuitive understanding of unspoken needs, and the orchestration of extraordinary experiences.

Assouline's partnerships span properties now recognized among The World's 50 Best Hotels, each one a master class in making guests welcomed and cared for.

The Exterior Of The Mark Hotel. Courtesy Of The Mark.

The Mark, New York City

Bold, stylish, and unapologetically New York, The Mark combines uptown elegance with downtown edge. From its iconic black-and-white striped awning to interiors by Jacques Grange, this Upper East Side gem delivers sophisticated glamour with a playful spirit that's quintessentially Manhattan.